March 2021

Effective immediately, Elevate has become a corporate member of the Munich based non-profit think tank, the Liquid Legal Institute (LLI e. V. (registered association)).

The Liquid Legal Institute is an open, neutral, and interdisciplinary platform for promoting a new collaborative way of thinking in the legal sector.

“The LLI stands for innovation, and so do we,” says Stephen Allen, Vice President of Get Sh*t Done at Elevate. “We are looking to further expand our footprint on the European market and participating in interdisciplinary projects within the LLI is a good way to start.”

Elevate is the law company, providing consulting, technology, and services to law departments and law firms and offering practical ways to improve efficiency, quality, and business outcomes.

“It’s great to have Elevate on board! The sharing of expertise and the joint development of content are core goals of the LLI. Elevate will be a great partner for doing that,” states Dr. Roger Strathausen, Co-Founder of the LLI & Vice Chair of the Supervisory Board.
